WHAT DOES METRO MEDICAL CREDIT UNION DO WITH YOUR PERSONAL INFORMATION?

Why?

Financial companies choose how they share your personal information. Federal law gives consumers the right to limit some but not all sharing. Federal law also requires us to tell you how we collect, share and protect your personal information. Please read this notice carefully to understand what we do.

What?

The types of personal (nonpublic) information we collect and share depend on the product or service you have with us. This information can include:

- Social Security number and account balances
- transaction or loss history and assets
- payment history and income
- creditworthiness and credit history

How?

All financial companies need to share member's personal information to run their everyday business. In the section below, we list the reasons financial companies can share their member's personal information; the reasons Metro Medical Credit Union chooses to share; and whether you can limit this sharing.

Reasons we can share your personal information	Does MMCU share?	Can you limit this sharing?
For our everyday business purposes — such as to process your transactions, maintain your account(s), respond to court orders and legal investigations, or report to credit bureaus	Yes	No
For our marketing purposes — to offer our products and services to you (such as loan specials and skip-a-pay offers)	Yes	No
For joint marketing with other financial service providers — such as mortgage bankers, securities brokers/dealers, insurance agents and other financial institutions with whom we have joint marketing agreements	Yes	Yes
For joint marketing with non-financial companies — such as retailers, direct marketers, and publishers	Yes	Yes

Who may opt out?

Account holders, co-borrowers and guarantors may execute this right to opt out. For joint account holders, we will treat an opt-out request as applying to everyone listed on the account.
